About Me

I am a recent graduate with a master's degree in machine learning and I am passionate for web development. My graduate project involved designing and implementing an AI model capable of generating text, showcasing my expertise in natural language processing. I have practical experience in web development using React and Node.js, having built responsive and user-friendly web applications during my studies.

I have worked as a freelancer developer for the past three years, I have done multiple tasks involving creating and maintaining web apps and creating Rest Api.

additionally to my academic studies I study web developing good practices and patterns and agile methodologies and its frameworks.
